Hi José,

Received these analyses from Huawei overnight.

My suggestion (and request) would be that you upload both files to the CEG's password-protected area – I can then send a note to the CEG telling them to download the files if they are interested. I think this would be preferable to distributing via e-mail.

Regards,
ven

Dear Honda-san, Ven and all

Please find updated analysis materials on EUHT and DECT tech.

It is also fine to share these materials in your internal IEG.

If we would like to raise some questions to proponents or trigger some discussion among IEGs, it is better to describe the issues from your understanding instead of directly using these materials.

Your comments are welcome 😊

Dear Ven

Thanks.

About the “sharing within CEG”

I think the materials could be shared within CEG participants. It may be helpful to analysis EUHT. However, it should no mention the analysis source from Huawei, in case that our internal discussion materials are known by Administration. If Admin knows the source, it will cause some troubles to future work.

About the “sharing amongst IEGs”

I think we could share it later.

From my view, firstly the current materials could inspire CEG to re-analysis on EUHT tech. When we and CEG almost complete the analysis, more IEGs could involve into the discussion.

Then, perhaps we can share it among 5GMF/5GIF/WWRF/5GIA to trigger some technical discussion. Once the above IEGs achieve the consensus-building of technical viewpoint for EUHT/DECT, it is good time to raise all the materials or views in the discussion area.

This is my initial plan and consideration. If you have some good thinking, we can further discuss.

Dear Jiafeng,

Thank you for sharing your analysis.

I think this is where the debate will start – can I share this with the CEG participants? Note that they come from academia as well as industry (mobile, of course, but operators and manufacturers), so I want to be sure sharing is possible.

What is your view regarding sharing amongst IEGs in general?

I will unfortunately not be able to make it to the conference call – and I would rather not impose since I’m the only one from outside your time zone).

Regards,
ven
